Tech Trek by AAUW AT STOCKTON COLLEGE

Tech Trek began in California 15 years ago. Due to the success of the camp, the American Association of University Women (AAUW) has extended the camp to include other states. The camp is now offered at 11 other states, including New Jersey, the first time in history!

Tech Trek is based on the research titled "Why So Few?" which shows that women enter the STEM fields at alarmingly lower rates compared to their male peers. Junior High School is the time period that interest in the STEM fields declines.

Help sponsor thirty 8th grade girls to continue their dream within the STEM fields!!

Tech Trek is a new camp being offered in New Jersey powered by AAUW-Atlantic County, NJ. It focuses on science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) fields which provide hands-on experiences for 30 rising 8th grade girls. This enriching experience provides campers with the encouragement to choose a career within the STEM fields.

The campers are given the week-long opportunity and learn from core courses, workshops, field trips, and experiences with STEM field
